Prisoner of War Home With Mother and Family

SERGEANT ROY HERRIGAN

Very interesting stories, of the thrills and escapades of our boys who rendered gallant service in the Armed Forces of their country in the war that has just ended in the European Theatre could be written however we have doubt if any could equal that of Sergeant Roy Horrigan. Following his graduation from Bay High School he enlisted in the United States Army Air Force, and after all of the necessary training he was sent to England, as an aerial gunner.

On July 4, 1944 his plane was shot down over France. He and one of his Lieutenants were rescued by a French family and while with this family they were accosted by German soldiers, they managed to escape, and the French people who befriended them, made arrangements to have them contact the French underground. They were entrusted to the care of a French woman who betrayed them and delivered them to the Germans.

Sergeant Horrigan has now been released and is back home with his mother and family.

During the time that he was a prisoner several very interesting letters were received by Mrs. Horrigan from the French family that had befriended her son.

CHURCH FAIR OF OUR LADY OF THE GULF GRAND SUCCESS

Father Clark and Father Martin report the Fair held on June 23, 24 and 25 a great success with the gross returns amounting to $2,400. The $25 bond was won by the Hille family.

Those in charge of the Fair wish to thank the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, the Knights of Columbus and the members of the Boy Scouts of Troop 208 together with many other individuals too numerous to mention.

There were many attractive features but the kiddies enjoyed riding the ponies which had been provided for the children to ride and they also got their share of fun from the fish pond. For those who were hungry the Hamburger stand did a big business and received many compliments for the quality of food and for service given. Candy for the lover of sweets was a drawing card and was a tremendous success. Soft drinks came in for their share of popularity. All told those in charge of the affair are greatly pleased with the results.

Staff Sergeant Emile Piazza Arrives Home

STAFF SGT. EMILE PIAZZA

Staff Sergeant Emile Piazza, Army Air Force, arrived home on Tuesday by way of Camp Shelby and is with his mother, Mrs. Mable Piazza at their home on Dunbar Avenue. Sgt. Piazza was with the eighth Army Air Force as an Aerial Gunner and was overseas for more than a year. He was taken prisoner on August 15, 1944 and was liberated by the Russians after the fall of Germany.

Sgt. Piazza has a story to tell if he cared to of his treatment as a prisoner and it might be good for the public to have first hand knowledge of just what those who are fighting this war are suffering. Red points, sugar coupons, scarcity of meat all pale into insignificance beside the stories "our boys" could tell if they would.

But Emile is at home and that is behind him now and his many friends are glad to welcome him back and rejoice with his family that he is safe.

Private Frank Trapani Home After Being a Prisoner of War in Germany

PVT. FRANK TRAPANI

Private Frank A. Trapani, Army, 84th Recn. Tr. 84th Infantry Division, is at home by way of Camp Shelby after being a prisoner of war at Stalag 4-B in Muhlberg, Germany. Pvt. Trapani was taken prisoner on December 22, 1944 just in the beginning of the bulge. That was when he was reported missing and it was later learned by his family that he was a prisoner of the Germans. He was liberated on April 24, 1945 and arrived here on Tuesday. He is at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Trapani and with him is his wife the former Miss Jennie DiMartino of New Orleans and their six months old baby Janet Ann.

Pvt. Trapani's many friends are glad to welcome him home and rejoice with his family that he is safe and well. It will behoove every American citizen and every Bay St. Louis resident to pause and ponder on just what these "boys" suffered in order that their loved ones and all others may have a place to live safe from danger. Then when the little inconveniences arise, for they are little compared to being a prisoner or war, meet them with a smile and say "If they can take it we can."

An Interesting Letter From A Boy in Service

One of the most interesting and thoughtful letters we have read as yet from a boy who is in the service of his country to a mother and father whose son gave his life for his country, is the letter of Staff Sergeant Warren Carver to Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Luc of Bay St. Louis, and which we quote:

"Dear Mr. Forrest and Mrs. Edwina: "I know that the loss you have suffered as a result of this war can never be repaid, but I thought of you last Tuesday morning and I knew that what I saw and heard would have made you very proud. We had a Memorial Day Service in Paris at the Church of St. Phillip. I wished that you could have been present. A High Mass was offered for those who had made the greatest sacrifice for our country. It was a magnificent affair and the large church was crowded with Americans. Words are of little consolation, I am sure, and yet I know your heart would have been lightened at the words of the priest—an American: Chaplain—who delivered the sermon. I shall not attempt to tell you of the things he said, because I feel that my command of words is not great enough to do justice to his sermon, but I will say that I am sure he expressed the gratitude of all Americans—rich and poor, big and little—for those who suffered and died so that we in America and the people all over the world, for that matter, might live as free men and women.

"I especially remembered your son. I offered the Mass and went to Holy Communion for him and for the sons of all the mothers and fathers from Hancock County who gave their all for us.

"With very kind regards, I am Yours sincerely,

Warren Carver."

The thoughts embodied in Warren's letter are a consolation to his mother and father, and are typical of this young man whom we have known since childhood, ever thoughtful and solicitous of the welfare of his family and his friends.

It was our pleasure to have had him serve as our Deputy in the office of the Clerk of Courts for a number of years, and to watch and observe him; to see him apply his spare time to the study of his chosen profession of accountancy and to see his rapid advancement.

He was called to the service of his Country, and even though married and the father of one child at the time, he did not murmur nor attempt to be deferred. His second child, born shortly after his entry into service, he has never had the pleasure of seeing.

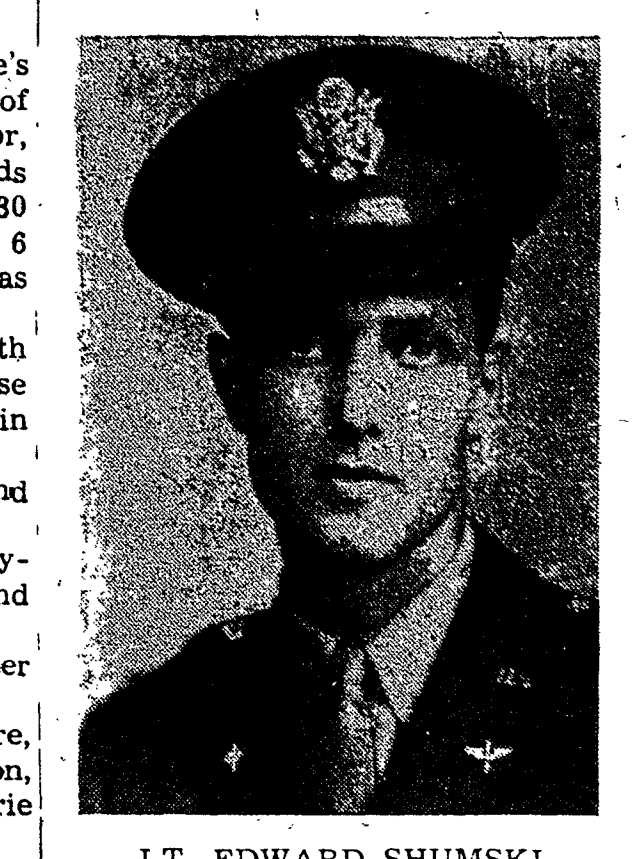

He was offered an opportunity to go to Officers' Candidate School and refused, preferring to remain an enlisted man. He rose rapidly as a non-commissioned officer, was sent to England and later to Paris, where he has been assigned to the Chief Quartermaster's Office.

His wife, the former Miss Edith Sampson and his two sons, Warren, Jr. and John T. reside in Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Carver is a valued employee of the Hancock Bank. She was formerly Assistant Clerk of the Local Draft Board.

Glad to Be in Bay St. Louis After Being of Prisoner Of The Germans

LT. EDWARD SHUMSKI

During the past week the beaming countenance of one of our young matrons-betrayed the fact that she had received some glad news tidings of the return to this country of her husband Lieutenant Edward Shumski, a prisoner of war in Germany. Lieutenant Shumski was shot down over Germany in the early days of the invasion. He was reported missing in action and later reported a prisoner of war.

Even though he is a native of the Great State of New York we hail him as one of our own. He came South for his training and married the former Miss Rita Bopp, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Bopp. Upon his arrival in this country he phoned his wife and advised her that he was being sent to Camp Shelby and that the one thing he wanted was to spend a few days in Bay St. Louis.

They were registered at Hotel Reed and upon the completion of his leave, he will go to Miami, Florida to a replacement center.

Motor Vehicle Use Tax Stamp Still is Law

Jackson—June 25—Motor vehicle owners are again reminded by Eugene Fly, Collector of Internal Revenue, that the motor vehicle use tax stamp law is still in effect despite the impression that seems to prevail in some quarters that the tax has been or will be repealed.

The use tax stamps for motor vehicles are on sale at post offices and the Office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, and the law requires that owners purchase and attach the stamps to the windshields of their motor vehicles by July 1.

A concerted drive for delinquents will be on July 1, Collector Fly stated, and as long as the law remains on the statute books every effort will be made to enforce it. Because of the misunderstanding that exists regarding the law Collector Fly said no penalties would be assessed for the first ten days of July, but delinquents apprehended on and after July 17 would be penalized in accordance with the law.

Chester A. Pieri, Dies at New Orleans Home

Chester A. Pieri, 62 years of age died at his home in New Orleans, 8349 South Claiborne Avenue, on Monday, June 25 and was buried on Tuesday, June 26 at 11 a. m. with interment in Hope Mausoleum.

Mr. Pieri, former resident of Bay St. Louis was the last of the sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. Genoa Pieri who for so many years made their home here. Mr. Pieri was at one time Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis.

He also leaves four sisters, Mrs. B. S. Baxter, Mrs. Joe Michel, Mrs. George Seuzeneau, Bay St. Louis and Mrs. O. A. Stein, Chicago, Ills.

Deep sympathy is extended to his family some of whom are residents of this city.

THEY ALSO SERVE

Many people serve in many ways in this great war effort. The Red Cross functions as folks know; but the many people who make the work of the Red Cross possible, are not brought every day before the public.

We have a little story here. One of our local citizens, for reasons we are eliminating his name, but as we do want you to know of this man's great generosity, we are going to call him John Doe.

John is a relatively young man. He is not able physically to serve with the Armed Forces. He is not able to hold a job in any of the defense plants. He is materially a poor man, but as small as his pocket book, so great is his heart. He yearns to be with his fellow man; and so each week he comes into the office of the local Red Cross, with a contribution. He makes no speech, but quietly enters the office, and with no word whatever, hands his money to one of the office staff. His is the true spirit of giving. Such men give with their hearts.

We hope that Mr. Doe will read this article, and know when he does just how much he is actually doing as his share, and how great is his gift.

Volunteer sewers are greatly needed by the Production Unit for the making of the Navy Kit Aprons. Any one who has just a few hours of spare time that could be given to this work, please call Mrs. Leo W. Seal, phone 164, for information and material. This work may be done at your home.

18 Grannies, Waterwise, Abandon Teatime Chatter

You're never too old to be in the swim, according to the "old ladies" of St. George, Utah.

Enrolled in the annual Red Cross Swim School conducted recently in the town's glass enclosed pool were 18 grandmothers. Although many of them were getting swimming instructions for the first time—some in company with their children and grandchildren—the "grannies" took to the water with a zest that amazed the younger generations. And when the swim school was over, they didn't put away their bathing suits and go back to their knitting. They formed an aquatic club of their own.

It's members now meet once a week—not over the tea cups, but in the water.

July 16th will be the beginning of the swimming instructions for adults.

Agricultural and Industrial Board Launches Plan-of-Action

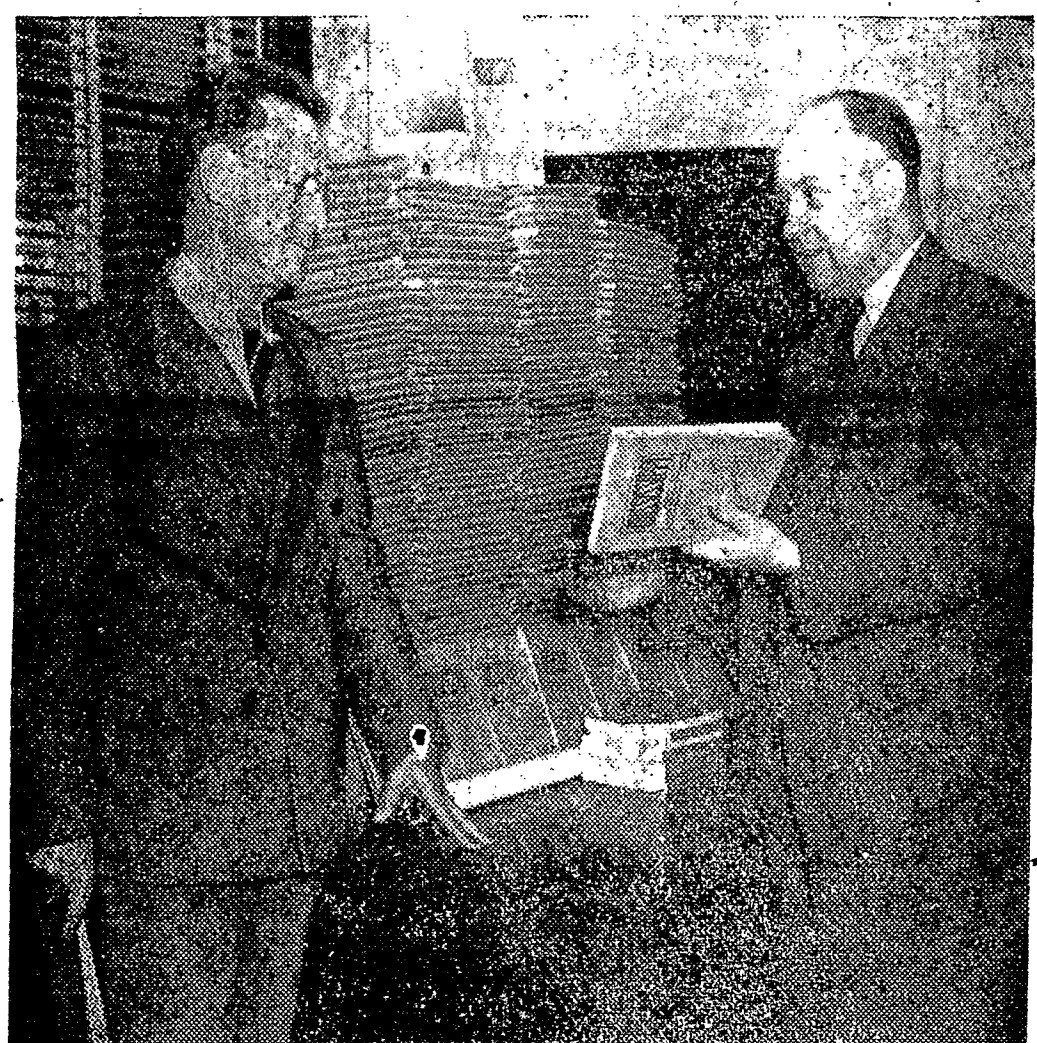

Mississippians Alerted to Activity Under BAWI Act—New Industry Program to Reach Every Municipality

Mississippi's Agricultural and Industrial Board, created by the 1944 Legislature to advertise and publicize the state of Mississippi and to administer the state's Balance Agriculture with Industry Act, has inaugurated a definite plan of action, according to John T. Kimball, Director, which when realized will mean additional jobs for returning service men and women, for civilians, better local markets for farm products, and a balanced economy in the state.

The plans of the Board are set forth in the following eight broad objectives:

1. To attain a balanced economic development in Mississippi between agriculture and industry.
2. To develop within Mississippi such commercial, industrial, agricultural and manufacturing enterprises as may benefit the greatest number of Mississippians.
3. To develop ready and attractive markets for farm products and for the state's natural resources.
4. To encourage the further conversion within Mississippi of the raw materials of farm, mine and forest into finished products.
5. To develop the greatest possible volume of travel business as soon as restrictions on travel are removed.
6. To assist in the sound development of agriculture as an industry in Mississippi so that Mississippi boys and girls will want to remain on the farms in Mississippi and so that when they do, municipality will be given every fact and thereby have an opportunity to take advantage of the BAWI act. The Board has set as its goal for at least one hundred Mississippi towns to get ready to secure a new industry between now and February. This action on the part of the communities of Mississippi will be big news—it will be known throughout the entire nation. It will give manufacturers a new confidence in Mississippi. It will result in increased industrial development—more jobs and bigger payrolls.

Typical mailing scene in the Agricultural and Industrial Board's headquarters in the New Capitol at Jackson where thousands of letters to interested people throughout the nation are mailed regularly. John Kimball, Director is shown on the right with T. D. Davis, Assistant Director, on the left.

they can earn a decent and substantial livelihood.

7. To encourage not only outside capital to come into Mississippi, but to encourage Mississippians to invest their own capital in those sound industrial, manufacturing and business enterprises that will provide thousands of additional jobs, substantial payrolls and new markets for the products of Mississippi farms.

8. To encourage present Mississippi industries to expand their plants to meet pent-up desires for consumer goods in the post-war period.

The first part of the plan deals with an information program for Mississippians. Through the newspapers and radio stations of the state, the Board will bring to the people of Mississippi facts about their state that every citizen should know—facts that every citizen can use when contacting people from outside the state. These facts will enable Mississippians to sell Mississippi.

The second part of the program deals with the Balance Agriculture with Industry section of the Act that created the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board. Popularly known as the BAWI Act, it gives Mississippi counties and municipalities the right to issue bonds and build industrial buildings for use by privately owned industries when such agreements are approved by the Board under the safeguards of the act. This part of the Board's program can mean multiplied thousands of postwar jobs in Mississippi—millions of dollars of payrolls—great new markets for agricultural products.

Mississippi is now in competition with every other Southern state for those industries that plan to build new plants in the South after the war. And, if Mississippi citizens will approve new industry bond issues—will invest public money in industrial buildings—to be leased to privately owned industries—then Mississippi plans will prove to the manufacturers of the nation that they have faith in their own communities and are willing to invest their own money. This fact alone can be the difference between Mississippi securing a substantial number of new industries and not securing them.

For this reason the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board has approved a plan to organize the entire state so that every

Congressional Sidelights

THE COST OF THE JAPANESE WAR

Now that Okinawa has finally fallen to the victorious Americans after many weeks of the bloodiest type of fighting, certain things are quite evident. Primarily, the fall of Okinawa is indicative of the obvious fact that the Japanese cannot win. Even the Japanese by now ought to know that. When the average Japanese realizes that his armed forces cannot prevent the landing and capture of an island as large and as well fortified as Okinawa, only some 300 miles from his homeland, it would appear that he would become discouraged. But, again, as many times pointed out, the Japanese fight on because of their religious fanaticism.

However, there is another sobering lesson to be learned by Americans from the capture of Okinawa, and that is that it appears evident that the closer we advance toward the homeland of Japan the stiffer the resistance is by the Japanese and the greater the cost in American casualties. To illustrate, it will be remembered that when Tarawa was taken by the Americans it was regarded as the bloodiest and costliest engagement that we had so far undertaken in the Pacific—913 Americans lost their lives and 2,037 were wounded, making our total casualties 2,950.

After the completion of that conquest we moved on to Saipan in our stepping stones to the Japanese homeland. There 3,387 Americans were killed or missing and 11,178 were wounded, making our total casualties 14,565. Even though the Japanese losses there were 26,090 we regarded it as a very costly campaign.

Then we moved on to Iwo Jima. There, in what was up until that time the bloodiest engagement in the Pacific war, we lost 4,036 Americans in killed and missing and 15,308 of our men were wounded, making our total casualties approximately 20,000. Again, the fact that in the 25 day battle the Japs lost 23,000 men afforded poor consolation to Americans. The fact that we did secure an advanced base for our B-29s was some consolation and from a military standpoint made it worth while.

But when we undertook the Okinawa campaign we were in for a full realization of the stubbornness and utter disregard of life which the Japanese possess. While the complete reports are not yet available it is thought that total American casualties will be approximately 45,000.

SHORT CUT

If the Japs were willing to make such sacrifices as they have made on these islands one wonders just how farcically the millions of Japanese on the Japanese mainland will fight to preserve their homeland when the invasion is attempted; or what the cost will be to us in the event that we elect to invade the coast of China as well as Japanese mainland where we would come in contact with millions of highly trained Japanese soldiers as well as fanatical Japanese citizenry, all fighting with the religious fanaticism of a martyr and the ferociousness of a cornered animal.

This all raises the question of whether or not there is some short cut to victory. Is it necessary to sacrifice a million or more of our precious young American boys in order to gain victory over these heathens? Has not the time come when we should consider other alternatives such as the blockade and subsequent starvation of the Japanese people, or the use of gas on them—or both? There is a strong opinion in this country that he use of poisonous gases should not be resorted to by us because it would be akin to barbarism. Yet we have to hear the first voice raised against the use of incendiary bombs dropped from our airplanes on Japanese cities and civilians and the use of flame throwers in combat—a common practice on all battlefronts in this war.

Can anyone successfully argue that the use of gas is more inhumane than the searing of human bodies by fire? Of one thing we may be certain, if the tables were turned and the Japanese were accessible to our

FREEDOM & FRUGALITY

No one knows when freedom, as we understand it, made its first appearance. The fight for freedom is as old as mankind.

The Anglo-Saxons, who landed in England in the 5th century, brought the spirit of it to that island. They had a conviction that the freedom of the individual citizen was an inalienable right which no government could take away. The long course of English history is a continuous struggle of its people to protect their freedoms from kings, tyrants and governments.

In the 13th century the Magna Charta was forced into existence as a dramatic chapter in the heroic effort of liberty-loving subjects to be free.

And this same eternal fight precipitated the American Revolution and the birth of the Republic. The Declaration of Independence and the American Constitution became the inspirational spearhead of a political philosophy in which the freedom of the citizen became paramount.

This nation is now engaged in a gigantic conflict to determine if freedom is to endure. Many interpretations have been made of America's freedoms which are perpetuated in our Bill of Rights. The freedom of speech, of the press, of religion and public assembly—these are taken for granted.

But the American concept of freedom has spread in other directions. Free enterprise is part of it—the freedom to dream, to work, to build and the freedom to save. Without savings American initiative and free enterprise could not have flourished and the miracle of America would not have been performed.

The financial foundation of the Republic was laid in thrift. No individual and no nation can spend beyond its means and long survive. If we refuse to save, the fortunes of the Republic will crumble.

Without our freedom to save we would sink. Out of our saved surplus America has financed most of the war and much of the world. To fail to put by a goodly portion of the fruit of our labors for the future would be foolish.

Open a savings account with us and add to it. The freedom to save is a privilege and an opportunity. Freedom and frugality pave the way to prosperity. Support the war effort without stint. Buy War Bonds and save consistently for economic freedom.

"FOR WHOM THE BELL TOLLS" TO BE AT THE A. & G. THEATER SUN., MON., AND TUES.

Ernest Hemingway's Novel
Filmed by Paramount
In Technicolor

From time to time a picture with the mark of greatness comes out of Hollywood to thrill and inspire the moviegoing world. Such a picture seems to be Paramount's long-awaited Technicolor film version of the celebrated Ernest Hemingway novel, "For Whom the Bell Tolls," co-starring Cary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman and coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the A. & G. Theatre.

The love story of Robert Jordan and Maria—the three days and nights in which a lifetime was lived—set against the background of the Spanish Revolution, is said to rank in tenderness and passion with the greatest romances ever filmed. Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman who play Robert Jordan and Maria are exactly the people Hemingway himself wanted for the parts. Their performances have elicited the highest praise not only from the Author, but from critics everywhere the picture has played.

"Filmed in magnificent Technicolor," "For Whom the Bell Tolls" is primarily the story of the American dynamiter, Robert Jordan, and the Spanish girl, Maria, victim of the Revolution's barbarism. It is Jordan's job to blow up a strategically placed bridge, which, if properly timed and executed, will aid the Loyalists in stemming the Fascists' advance. To accomplish this, Jordan enlists the cooperation of a guerrilla band led by Pablo, played by Akim Tamiroff, and Pilar, his wife, portrayed by Katina Paxinou, famous Greek actress. It is with the guerrilla band that Jordan finds the crop-headed Maria.

The difficulties the group encounter in carrying out Jordan's assignment, the development of the romance between Jordan and Maria, are transferred to the screen by producer-director Sam Wood with the same attention to detail and characterization that Hemingway gave them in his great book.

Others in the cast who contribute to the greatness of "For Whom the Bell Tolls" are Arturo de Cordova, Joseph Calleia, Vladimir Sokoloff, Mikhail Rasmun, Fortunio Bonanova, Eric Felday, Victor Varconi.

ORTE THEATRE "BLONDE FEVER" SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Mary Astor, Philip Dorn in M. G. M.'s Delightful New Comedy with an All-Star Cast

"Blonde Fever," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer attraction at the Ortte Theatre, is a comedy of modern marriage that holds a mirror up to meandering men and does it with great good tongue-in-cheek humor that makes for one very pleasant entertainment indeed.

M-G-M has assembled a fine cast to tell the fast-moving story of a fortyish proprietor of a swank restaurant who falls hard for a young blonde beautiful and naive charmer who is one of his waitresses. Said young charmer has a boy friend and said restaurateur has a shrewd and understanding wife. These, in addition to Felix Bressart as a waiter who knows just what's going on everywhere at any time, make up the elements for this bouncy, flavory little comedy.

Miss Astor, when she is faced with the imminency of the end of a ten-year marriage, finds allies in Bressart and young Marshall Thompson, who plays the boy friend of Gloria Grahame, the promising newcomer seen as the waitress. Mixed up in the proceedings are a prize-winning lottery ticket and a rickety motorcycle—and they add to the general funfest.

Dorn is fine as the fortyish husband with twentyish ideas. Miss Astor, charming and beautiful as ever, portrays the clever, practically (but not quite!) imperturbable wife. Miss Grahame and Thompson both bring freshness to the screen in their first important roles and Bressart is his usual expert self as the ubiquitous waiter. Richard Whorf has done a deft job of direction.

All in all, "Blonde Fever," is one of those pictures that really make you forget your troubles for an hour plus. See it, by all means; you'll have a lot of laughs and a grand time.

MEATIER CHICKEN BECOMES GOAL OF POULTRY LEADERS

Chicago—America's two-billion dollar poultry industry was challenged today by 14 of its national leaders to produce a fast-growing, better meat-type chicken to help retain the markets poultrymen have won during the current meat shortage.

A 48-state contest to develop a broad-breasted chicken—comparable to the popular broad-breasted turkey—was announced by the group, according to D. D. Slade, secretary, International Baby Chick Association, Lexington, Ky., who was elected chairman of a supervisory committee to formulate plans for the contest.

Consisting of representatives of all major poultry associations and key poultrymen of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the committee has been asked by A & P Stores to draw up specifications for an ideal meat-type bird and to supervise distribution of $8,000 in awards which the company has pledged to encourage the poultry industry to place increased emphasis on the production of a better meat chicken to insure greater profits for poultrymen and finer poultry for consumers' dinner tables.

"The program is designed to crystallize thinking among all poultry breeders, from the large hatcheryman to the owner of a small backyard flock, on a chicken with an abundance of carvings," Slade said. "This is really a challenge to rural America's poultry producers. Up to this time poultry meat has been mainly a by-product of egg production. The committee will set standards for a bird which will have a greater percentage of meat to bony structure, larger proportion of white meat to dark meat and a broader breast well-filled with flesh—in other words, a chicken that will offer a greater degree of flavor and tenderness and contain more meat than ever before produced. The bird must mature rapidly and the breeding stock must maintain high egg production."

From the poultryman's angle, Slade added, a broad-breasted chicken should mean more economical growth—more meat per pound of feed eaten, which has a lot to do with profits.

The contest will last three years and will bring a $5,000 cash prize to the poultryman breeding the best bird. Annual progress awards will total $3,000.

Tells About Japs As Jungle Fighters
Foster General Hospital, Jackson, Miss., May 31—Both Jap soldiers and jungle fighters are tough according to Pvt. George L. O'Farrell, of Lakeshore, Miss., who has just arrived at Foster General Hospital for medical treatment after fighting the Japs on Leyte in the Philippines.

"Jungle Fighting is tough. A Jap might be 10 feet away from you, and you couldn't see him," he said. "Sometimes a Jap will let six or seven men go by on a jungle path and then open fire. You have to be careful."

"The Japs are a real sneak and cruel. To me he's like an animal. He's a hood jungle fighter."

While serving with the 32nd Infantry Division as a rifleman he became ill and returned to the States for medical care. He served in the Southwest Pacific for 14 months. He is the husband of Mrs. Eva O'Farrell and son of W. C. O'Farrell, both of Lakeshore, Miss.

HOW IS MY WIFE MAKING OUT;

We owe a debt to this man. Adding a worry is not the way to show our gratitude. The security of his wife and family depends upon us. Our job on the home front is to heed ceiling prices. ## Awarded Distinguished Flying Cross

Air Transport Command Base, India—1st. Lieut. Louis E. Perez, pilot, of 121 Sycamore Street, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, it was announced by Brig. William H. Turner, commanding General of the India China Division, Air Transport Command.

The award was made upon completion of 300 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult India-China air routes, where enemy interception and attack was probable and expected.

The air trail over the Hump, famed route through the towering peaks of the Himalaya Mountains, blazed by the Air Transport Command, is recognized by airmen as the world's toughest. Today the Hump route is the main lifeline of vital military supplies for the Allied Forces fighting the Japanese in China.

The citation accompanying the award reads:

"Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable, mountainous terrain through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments . . . requiring courageous and superior performance of his duties to overcome, he accomplished his mission with distinction . . ."

The award was made for the period of service from October 31, 1944 to March 17, 1945.

AUCTION SALES

The system of selling livestock in auction markets has grown rapidly in Mississippi until the greater part of livestock is now sold by auction. This applies both to beef types and to milk cows. The state has at this time about forty auction markets and sales conducted in this way usually bring top prices. The date of the sale is advertised and buyers then know where and when to go. It is not unusual for buyers from several states to attend these auctions. Mississippi has had a marvelous development in the livestock business in the past years and the auction sale market seems to provide the very best system of bringing buyer and seller together on the ground where the stock may be seen.

Savings accounts may serve in many ways

It would require a full length book to print the 'case histories' of the many uses of savings. Small merchants use them when they need cash within an hour. Mothers use them when some member of the family must have cash at once. Others find them a friend indeed when an accident occurs, when an emergency operation is necessary, when an unexpected vacation is offered, when payments for taxes or other immediate needs are involved. There just isn't any substitute for a savings account in your own name. It requires only a few minutes to open your account at this bank.
